Oh, Boatman, Haste. BY GEO. P. MORRIS.

Tune-" Dance, Boatman, Dance." TWILIGHT. Oh, boatman, haste !- the twilight hour is closing gently o'er the lea! The sun whose setting shuts the flower, Has looked his last upon the sea! Row, then, boatman, row ! Row, then, boatman, row ! Row !- aha !- we've moon and star! And our skiff with the tide is flowing. Heigh-ho !-ah !-heigh-ho !

Echo responds to my sad heigh-ho! MIDNIGHT. Oh, boatman, haste !- the sentinel calls The midnight hour on yonder shore ! And silvery sweet the echo falls As music dripping from the oar !

Row, then, boatman, row, Row, then, boatman, row ! Row !-afar !- hine moon and star, While our skiff with the stream is flowing. Heigh-ho !- th !-heigh-ho !-Echo responds to my sad heigh-ho!

Oh, boatman haste !- the morning beam Glides through the fleecy clouds above ! So breaks on life's dark murmuring stream The rosy dawn of woman's love. Row, then, bootman, row ! Row, then, boatman, row ! Row !- 'tis day !-away !-away ! To the land with the stream we are flowing. Heigh-ho!-dear one-ho! Beauty responds to my glad heigh-ho!

on their arrival by the British steamers, in a heavy ful clear type on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals-blackwood's Mag szing being an exact fac simple of the Edinburgh edition. The wide-spread finne of these s; lended Periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they stand far in advance of any works of a smillar stamp now published, while the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, scandor, and forbearance not often found in works of a party character. They embrace the vicins of the three great parties in England-Whig, Tory, and Radical. "Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the " Edinburgh Review," Whig ; and the "Westminster," Radical. The "Foreign Quarterly" is purely literary, being devoted principally to criticisms on foreign Continental Works. The orices of the Repursus are less than one third of those of the foreign copies, and while they are equally well got up, they afford all that advantage to the American over the English reader.
